Revolution in eye safety programs

Eylation's revolutionary, web-based software and patent-pending process re-invents the safety eyewear industry and changes the way companies manage their eye safety programs.

Through Eylation's 24/7 kiosks, every employee, on every shift, at every location can easily order their prescription safety glasses on-site at their work location. The simple 3-step system allows employees to capture their image, scan their prescription and order glasses all within a matter of minutes. As part of this easy system, state-of-the-art "virtual try-on" technology allows employees to view a variety of safety frames on their own image as well as get exact measurements taken to ensure a proper fit.

With Eylation, companies can offer quality prescription eyewear with the best fit and service to all of their employees. Eylation provides an easy-to-manage program and eliminates the need for complex forms, panel doctors and special visits.

Founded by vision-industry veterans with more than 30 years of expertise in optical safety, Eylation has developed a unique solution for companies struggling to meet the needs of all of their employees on all shifts in a cost effective manner.
